

Sub-Group 4.2: Chancery Court Records
Series D.3: Guardian Settlement Records (loose), 1815 - 1993
137 Linear feet (272 boxes)

Series Description:

Guardianships were generally instituted by the county for either minor children when a parent or parents had died or for individuals deemed unable to manage their own affairs. A guardian was appointed to handle the finances and often other aspects of the person's life, such as securing their education, housing, medical care, etc. Researchers will find the records useful for determining relationships within families, as well as a detailed accounting of financial and other activities in which an ancestor may have been involved, either as a guardian or as an individual being guarded. Among the types of documents found in the files are accounts, settlement records, receipts, bills, invoices, correspondence, among other records. Files in the series are arranged in alphabetical order by the surname of the person for whom a guardianship was instituted.
